Vale; John Wood OAM

Mr Wood joined the MGA in 1958 as General Manager and Editor of the Australasian Grocer, the previous name of this magazine. During an 18 year association with the MGA he was a leading innovator for the independent sector.

John was appointed as General Manager and later Managing Director of Composite Buyers, the MGA owned wholesaling company. In 1956 the Association was then based in an old warehouse building in King Street, Melbourne. Mr. Wood then developed and built new warehouse facilities for Composite at a newly acquired Clayton site. In the early 1970's he purchased land at Scoresby to underpin the growing independent business. A new MGA headquarters and 350,000 square foot warehouse including dry goods storage, liquor, frozen foods and dairy goods was constructed and became operational in 1974 for Composite Buyers.

The combined independents then held more than two thirds of the market in Victoria. John then went on to form NARGA and established the national industry newspaper Retail World with Brian Kirby, then Secretary of the WA Grocery Association.
