

JOIN THE MGA'S TRAUMA & CRITICAL INCIDENT PROGRAM

When an accident, injury, death, or robbery occurs unexpectedly, most people experience emotions including shock, confusion, pain, sorrow and anguish. Nearly everyone involved will have their thoughts consumed with the incident, making concentrating on their work and home life near impossible.

In the event of a critical incident occurring at your worksite, our highly trained and experienced psychologists can be there to support your staff and business by providing immediate, onsite debriefing and counselling services to those affected. A few sessions of trauma counselling can often speed the process of returning to work and reduce the likelihood of those affected suffering from depression, anxiety and/or Post Traumatic Stress Disorder.

Basic business theory states that human capital is the most important aspect of a business. Don't ignore this element or your business could suffer substantially. Call us today to find out more!

Our service is professional and convenient, and boasts:

- Immediate Response to service request
- 24 Hour Trauma Hotline
- On-site Debriefing & Counselling
