Please note these rates are a draft calculation only based on currently available information and are a preliminary preview of what the official wage tables may likely reflect once published by the Fair Work Ombudsman. The rates in the draft tables have been rounded to two decimal places; the official figures to be released by the Fair Work Ombudsman may use different rounding conventions which will result in slight differences in the final official wages. The above wage rates are subject to change and you should not rely on these amounts until you receive a further notification from us to confirm them.
